You Can Be a Medical HERO!

Learn How YOU Can Help Save Lives by Participating in Clinical Trials

What are Clinical Research Trials?

Clinical research trials are carefully designed studies that involve volunteer patients receiving investigational treatments - a new drug, device, or vaccine. These trials are closely monitored by specialty physicians.

How Do I Know If I Qualify?

Clinical trials have regulatory guidelines regarding patient qualifications. Certain criteria for patients must be met. This could include age, gender, type of disease, and overall medical history.

Are There Benefits to Volunteering?

As a volunteer in a clinical trial, you are participating in the development of new medical devices and medications. Other important reasons to consider volunteering to participate in a clinical trial are:

- New Treatment Options
- Possible Compensation
- No Insurance Needed
- No Cost for Medical Care
- Assist in Advancing Medical Science

On average, patients receive $15,000 in free healthcare.
